COMMENTS:I am very interested in how growth will occur in the city of Stuart. Through careful and insightful planning our city can grow in ways residents will feel comfortable with. Growth in our part of the world is inevitable but must be sustainable. In order to maintain our vibrant little city our economic base must grow but not at the expense of our quality of life. As we grow, we must put residents needs and desires before that of outside developers. We must have a vision of what our future will look like. And then we must do everything within our power to uphold that vision. I look forward to serving our city.
